Product Description

Green tea catechins have shown a number of beneficial effects, modern research and scientific data demonstrates that the beneficial effects of green tea are largely due to its main catechin, Epigallocatechin Gallate (EGCG). EGCG makes up about 30%-50% of the total catechin content and has an antioxidant activity about 25-100 times more potent than Vitamin C and E. The EGCG90%, 95% is a pure and defined substance delivering all the healthful benefits associated with green tea, which provides the best of green tea in its purest form, is highly compatible with a broad range of foods, beverages and dietary supplements. It is white to a pale pink powder, has little impact on the taste of your product.

Function:

1. Anti-atherogenic / Lowering cholesterol & triglycerides
2. Enhancing metabolism and fat oxidation
3. Reducing blood clotting
4. Enhancing immune function
5. Enhancing weight loss
6. Anti-cancer

Product Characteristic:

*A very pure and refined white to a pale pink compound with strong healthy function, which can be added to a broad range of dietary supplements, food products, beverages and cosmetics without a major impact on their color and taste.
* The products with the highest cost performance in the world market of green tea extracts.
